Trust in our experience

In 1945 with the war only just over, Alexandre Sterckeman built his first caravan in his Seclin workshop in northern France.

Thanks to the progress made in the field of motor vehicles and the introduction of paid holidays, caravans became an excellent means of holidaying in France.

Some 75 years later, Sterckeman has become a major European brand and continues to delight thousands of caravanners throughout Europe.

Your other holiday home

Today, Sterckeman provides caravans that are easy to tow and boast a modern look with a full range of models :
